

A partnership between language and art schools

Language(s) available	Dutch
Category	Good practices
Type of document	Article
Author(s)	Huis van het Nederlands, Brussel
Country of origin	Belgium
Targeted group	Teachers
Description (150 words maximum)	The article and embedded film describe how non-native speakers are learning Dutch during art lessons in a partnership between the language school Huis van het Nederlands and St Lukas, an art school in Schaarbeek, Brussels. The need to ask questions and discuss their work encourages students to practise and extend their Dutch language abilities.
